STAT REFERENCE:

DMA Letter to [Redacted]
dtd. 2 May 1984, same subject

1. On behalf of the National Foreign Intelligence Community, I thank you for incorporating our requirements with those of the National Security Council and for allowing our participation in the exploration and analysis of video disc technology, which will be used to satisfy those requirements. I believe we have gained valuable experience from this cooperative effort, and I look forward to working with your staff in the future. As DMA adapts to technological developments, such as those in the field of digital mapping, we will need to coordinate our efforts even more closely; this will ensure the Intelligence Community is adequately prepared to adapt to incorporate new cartographic information retrieval and display technology into the intelligence production process.

STAT 2. Again, I appreciate the opportunity to have worked with your staff and hope to continue to do so.
